Apply for Financial Aid to Support the Educational Needs of Displaced Students

Ohio's local school leaders stepped up to assist students impacted by the natural disasters of 2017. Now, the Ohio Department of Education can apply for federal financial assistance to help public school districts and private schools with the unexpected costs of educating displaced students.

We encourage eligible districts and private schools to complete a short application to identify the numbers of displaced students served during the 2017-2018 school year.

- Apply for Assistance for Homeless Children and Youth

The timelines for these two applications are tight and must be completed by Tuesday, May 15.

Questions and Additional Information

Please review the federal applications packages, under the K-12 program tab online, including a Frequently Asked Questions document to be provided by the U.S. Department of Education. The Ohio Department of Education will provide information as it becomes available.
